

Sector: Commercial - Private House Refurbishment

Case Study: The Yett

BEFORE

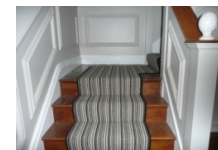

The Challenge

This residential property had suffered extensively as a result of fire and water damage. We were asked to undertake a complete refurbishment and modernisation, without losing any of the character. We had a strong working relationship with the owner, who had seen what we had achieved in other industry sectors, and who was keen for us to apply our talents to this property.

The Result

We were able to demonstrate the R&S capability in a very high specification private housing project. We were also able to demonstrate how proactive we can be when it comes to sourcing the very best in both products and tradesmen. The end result was a breathtaking home – with a very satisfied owner!
